

Kit Carson Internet ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

Terms and Conditions for Service

Introduction

KIT CARSON INTERNET's commitment to its customers is to provide consistent and superior customer experiences. KIT CARSON INTERNET's acceptable use policies ("Policies") set forth below define acceptable practices while using any of KIT CARSON INTERNET's services that provide access to the KIT CARSON INTERNET network (the "Service"). By using the Service, you acknowledge that you and users that have gained access to the Service through your account (collectively "Users"), have read, understood, and agree to abide by the Policies. You are responsible for violations of these Policies by any User. While it is not our intent to control or monitor your on-line experience or the content of your on-line communications, we may edit or remove content that we deem to be in violation of the Policies or that we otherwise deem harmful or offensive. The Policies apply to all aspects of the Service, including e-mail, USENET postings, chatting, and browsing.

You are entirely responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your password and account information. You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold KIT CARSON INTERNET, its subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors, employees, agents, licensors, consultants, suppliers, and any third party Web site providers harmless from and against all claims, demands, actions, liabilities, losses, expenses, damages, and costs, including actual attorneys' fees, resulting from your violation of this Policy, misuse or abuse of the Service, or your infringement, or infringement by any other user of your account, of any intellectual property or other right of any person or entity. You will cooperate as fully as reasonably required in KIT CARSON INTERNET's defense of any claim. KIT CARSON INTERNET reserves the right, at its own expense, to assume the exclusive defense and control of any matter otherwise subject to indemnification by you and you shall not in any event settle any matter without the written consent of KIT CARSON INTERNET. You agree immediately to notify KIT CARSON INTERNET of any unauthorized use of your account or any other breach of security known to you.

These Policies are designed to assist in protecting the Service, our Users, and the Internet community as a whole from improper and/or illegal activity over the Internet. Users are generally expected to behave in a reasonable fashion and to adhere to commonly accepted practices of the Internet community. For the most part, simply exercising good judgment and common sense while using the Service should enable Users to remain within the purview of acceptable conduct as further described in these Policies. The categories listed below are intended merely to serve as guidelines regarding appropriate and inappropriate conduct; the list is by no means exhaustive nor complete and should not be interpreted as such.

In the event that KIT CARSON INTERNET believes or discovers that a service subscriber has violated the policy, KIT CARSON INTERNET reserves the right to terminate or suspend service(s) without notice. Because KIT CARSON INTERNET takes the suspension or deactivation of an account seriously, KIT CARSON INTERNET may elect to send notice to user(s) of violation(s) before terminating the account. In all cases of suspension or termination of service, notification is the preferred way of responding to incidents but it is not a requirement. In the case where an account has been terminated or suspended, the reactivation of the old account or the acquiring of a new account will only be allowed by express written approval of KIT CARSON INTERNET. The account may also be held responsible for any charges associated with any installation or activation charges, whether it is for a new account or an existing suspended or terminated account. The providing of the KIT CARSON INTERNET Acceptable Use Policies does not in any way obligate KIT CARSON INTERNET to monitor or police accounts for violation. KIT CARSON INTERNET is not responsible for content and is acting only as a passive conduit. KIT CARSON INTERNET is also not liable to any party, either you or any other party, for any violations of this policy.

Modifications to Acceptable Use Policy

Because of the continual changes in the Internet environment, technology, legal requirements, and service offerings, KIT CARSON INTERNET reserves the right to modify the Acceptable Use Policies whenever needed without prior notification. Changes to the policies will be posted electronically online via the Service. It will be your responsibility to be aware of and understand the policies and posted modifications. Any use of the service after the posting will constitute the acceptance by the subscriber of the policy modification and or changes.

In providing dial-up services for access to KIT CARSON INTERNET's Services or to the Internet, KIT CARSON INTERNET provides equipment and resources that are used on a shared basis by many subscribers. If the excessive use by an account is such that it potentially impacts KIT CARSON INTERNET's ability to provide Services or network resources that need to be protected, the account can be terminated immediately. KIT CARSON INTERNET dial-up accounts are also subject to idle timeouts. An idle timeout is the disconnection of a session when a dial-up account is idle for a specified period of time and no interactive, human generated data appears to be received from the remote user's computer system. Automated data is not considered interactive or human generated and is also subject to idle timeout. Examples of automated data include data generated by an automatic re-dialer, script or other program that runs on the user's computer system for the purpose of avoiding inactivity disconnects.

In using dial-up services from KIT CARSON INTERNET, you will not resell any services or offer public information services over dial-up accounts (unlimited usage or otherwise), nor permit more than one log-on session to be active at one time on dial-up accounts.

Acceptable Use: Resource Usage

In providing access to KIT CARSON INTERNET's Services or to the Internet, KIT CARSON INTERNET provides resources, including but not limited to bandwidth and disk space, that are used on a shared basis by many subscribers. If the excessive use by an account is such that it potentially impacts KIT CARSON INTERNET's ability to provide services or that network resources need to be protected, the account can be terminated immediately. To facilitate the use of shared network resources, KIT CARSON INTERNET has resource limits for the use of the e-mail services. KIT CARSON

INTERNET shall not be liable to you or parties interacting with you for any damages resulting from the actions KIT CARSON INTERNET takes to enforce the following provisions:

Total mailbox storage is limited to ten megabytes per mailbox. When a mailbox reaches a soft limit of ten megabytes of storage, a warning will be delivered to the user indicating that ten megabytes of storage is the limit before messages are not delivered and returned to the sender. When the mailbox reaches the ten megabytes of storage limit, mail will be returned to the sender with a message indicating that the receiver's mailbox is full.

Acceptable Use: Content

You are solely responsible for creating, managing, editing, reviewing, deleting and otherwise controlling the content of messages or information in connection with Service. KIT CARSON INTERNET is acting only as a passive conduit. KIT CARSON INTERNET gives you complete discretion over the content to be accessed or distributed in connection with the Service. KIT CARSON INTERNET has no obligation, and undertakes no responsibility to determine whether any such content may give rise to liability to third parties. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, if KIT CARSON INTERNET believes in its sole discretion that any use by you of Service may create liability for KIT CARSON INTERNET, KIT CARSON INTERNET may take any actions, including but not limited to termination of Service, that KIT CARSON INTERNET believes are prudent to minimize KIT CARSON INTERNET's potential liability.

A single arbitrator engaged in the practice of law and knowledgeable about the subject matter of the claim shall conduct the arbitration in accordance with the then current rules of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA").
